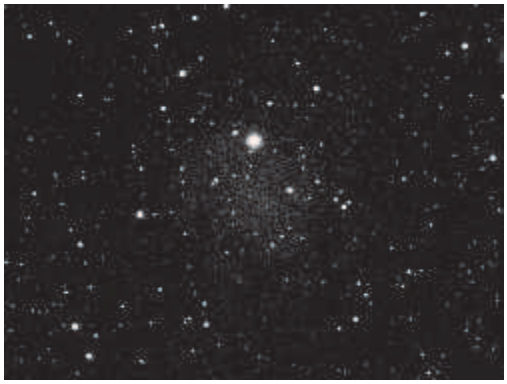
Investigation

Read and Discuss:

This headline was found on a scientific website. Look at the claim made and discuss the validity of this claim. Do you agree or disagree. Why? Research this claim on websites such as http:/ www.AnswersinGenesis.org or http://icr.org

Scientists confirm that parts of earliest genetic material may have come from the stars.



Scientists have confirmed for the first time that an important component of early genetic material which has been found in meteorite fragments is extraterrestrial in origin, in a paper published on 15 June 2008.